The Madison Jobe Senior Center is a recreation facility for active adults 50 years of age and older. It is operated by the City of Pasadena Parks and Recreation Department and is located near the intersection of Red Bluff and Thomas, close to Hwy 225. Whether you are working, semi-retired, or retired, we offer a variety of great leisure, educational and personal development opportunities for you. Our programs offer activities that encourage and support health, creativity, and social interaction for active adults.

Why not take the time to try something new?

Lou Ann Words of Wisdom

We had a great time shopping at the outlet stores in San Marcus and lobbying at the Capitol with all our seniors. It was a fun trip with lots of laughs. We saw lots of things and toured the capitols and even saw a rattlesnake roundup performance in the outside rotunda area in the annex. Rep. Dennis Paul was kind enough to provide lunch for us and we met several other Representatives, thanks to Mr. Steve Coycault. Well, all went great without any hitches until we got home. I couldn't find my driver's license or my gun license, which I had used to gain access to the Capitol. You see, at the Capitol, you can get past all the lines if you have a permit to carry because you have a heightened level of security you must pass to get that particular license. I thought might have put them in my purse or luggage. I got home and scoured through all that to no avail. I dumped my purse out three times thinking I had missed it somehow. Nope, it definitely wasn't there. I looked through every pocket of my clothing and luggage for about the fourth time. I guess I thought it would magically reappear somehow. I was almost at the panic state where you have to admit that they are lost or stolen and you have to report them. I thought about where I had been and was thinking maybe they had fallen out of my pocket. I thought maybe I had accidentally tossed it in my purse, and it might have fallen into the open envelope of the travel credit cards that Eric had graciously offered to return to the city's Purchasing Dept. the next day. So I texted Eric that evening after I had searched through absolutely everything several hundred times (or so it seemed). I surely didn't want to admit to Purchasing that I had misplaced my driver's license because that just seemed so irresponsible so I was hoping that maybe Eric had checked it before turning it in. Luckily he texted back that he had taped it to the front of the envelope and was fairly certain that nothing else was in the envelope. Then moments later, Eric phoned me. Excitedly he said, "I know where your card is!" I asked him if he had it, and he said, "No, but I know exactly where it is! It's in the pocket of those blue vests we were wearing!" Texan Plus had purchased those for us to wear to the Capitol to help us keep up with each other and to identify ourselves as being from the City of Pasadena. "Eric, you are a genius!" I exclaimed. I knew he was right because I kept thinking I had placed it in my blazer pocket. I had actually placed it in that blue vest pocket that I was wearing on top of my blazer and just forgot I was wearing the vest. Then, because I have the greatest staff members in the world, he said, "I'll be by in five minutes to pick you up and we will look for it tonight. We folded them and put them all in a box." I politely told him that it could wait until morning, but he insisted, knowing I wouldn't get a wink's sleep otherwise (and he was correct). Plus, he knew I'd probably go alone to look for it because I was pretty worried about it. So, he picked me up and we got to the center (which is a bit creepy at night). The Coughatta Group on the bus was also about to arrive at any minute too, so it was about 7 p.m. Eric knew right where the box was and we looked through each and every pocket, one by one, carefully folding and unfolding each of the vests. As we got down to the last five vests, we both sighed and just looked kind of dejected at each other as if to say it wasn't there after all. And then, as I picked up one of the last ones in the box, VOILA! There they were, snugly tucked in the pocket of one of the very last vests in the entire box of about 60 vests. We cheered and hooted and hollered! I thanked Eric for being so brilliant! It would have been months or years before we used that last vest in the box again, and I was quite thankful I didn't have to go through the pain of having to replace those licenses. I guess the moral of this story is that sometimes it is wise to share your troubles rather than keep them to yourself because sometimes other people are just brilliant and think of things from a different perspective. They can help you figure out things faster than you could by yourself. Two brains are definitely better and luckier than one. I have a card I now keep in my car that says "LUCKY" so I can remember that I am lucky every day. I know I am lucky to work with such great folks who are kind and thoughtful...Sandra, Lisa, Jesus, Julie, JJ, Eric and each of you. You all have a great St. Paddy's Day filled with luck and four leaf clovers.
